Hi inb4, side q. Does POTUS know his peace plan (that Netanyahu is now pushing to complete this July) will divide the land of Israel (it is creating a Palestinian state within Judea/Samaria)? Is this to complete a fulfillment on purpose, or he get duped into it? You know, divide the land == judgement begins.

Would it be off base to consider that POTUS kept certain parties around specifically to find out who they were really aligned to in the shadows?
My sense is that it has ALWAYS been his M.O., to keep his enemies close enough to PLAY them unwittingly, while they believe they are playing him.
It would help me to know if it's a correct way of interpreting such moves on his part.

Things aren't good, OP. Hope you all know how bad things are for good people.
Not a lot of people can survive the disillusionment especially when promises are broken.
Too many failures and false promises not kept last 70 years.
Retribution must be public for people to gain hope and world to know they are on notice. If you want to see damages to the heart, you don't have to go to venezuela.

In case some are not familiar with the entirety of the parable of tares:
"The Parable of the Tares (also known as the Parable of the Weeds, Parable of the Wheat and Tares, Parable of the Wheat and Weeds, or the Parable of the Weeds in the Grain) is a parable of Jesus which appears in Matthew 13:24-13:30. The parable relates how servants eager to pull up the tares were warned that in so doing they would root out the wheat as well and were told to let both grow together until the harvest. According to the interpretation supplied in Matthew 13:36-13:43, the parable's meaning is that the "sons of the evil one" (the tares or weeds) will be separated from the "sons of the kingdom" (the wheat) at "the end of the age" (the harvest) by angels."
To put it simply, allow it to mature and become ripe so that collateral damage can be minimized and definitive sides are taken towards the end.

You practice bagua zhang until you recognize that there are not a hundred changes or hundreds of appearances of change, but actually only one. Until, through walking and the Single Palm Change, this reality can stabilize inside you so the one and only change can manifest—even as you change the energy of any martial application within the flicker of a thought. By moving your finger a fraction of an inch, a tiny little bit, all of a sudden, from what is inside, you can do any martial art change that exists and it will jump out of you spontaneously as a fighting application.

had occasion to spend time with a tweenaged relative recently who informed me that DJT was racist. i said really? was he also a racist in the 80s and 90s when he was making Mike Tyson's career with Don King, fighting the City of Palm Beach for golf club permits because he allowed blacks into his yankee golf clubs, and Oprah was begging him to run for president? she just blinked. then i saw her consult her search engine not as slyly as she imagined. it was rich.
these kids really think his life started on the apprentice. and the ones running campaigns against him really think his supporters (and voters in general) are as stupid as the caricatures they draw of them with no frame of reference like the search engines they manipulate.

>terroristas
BD mentioned they are doing 'interviews' in DC and elsewhere. We all noticed how the 'riots' became less violent last few days and is petering out in terms of energy.
It's not just soros and the like wanting the thing to appear organic and trying to cajole domestic opinion with carrot and stick psychological approach. "muh racism bad see dey gud bois nao goyz" no it's also that more shitheads are getting to meet some fairly don't give a fuck enraged people with bloodlust and are finding out reality hard way.

sounds like events in venezuela hinge on whether russian (((deep state))) and chinks decide it's not in their interest to interfere anymore. Hope you hang on tight, VZ bro.

Right on! Bagua is where it's at. Worth getting some libgen books on it. It's like an even cooler form of Qigong, which I also like a lot, same with Taoist Yoga and Taoist style meditation. A lot of people focus too much on Buddhism (which is obv great) but in the Chinese internal martial arts as well as everything in Taoism there's all sorts of very practical stuff. Another thing people neglect is Aboriginal shamanism if you're into similar things. This guy Bradford Keeney has a lot of really cool books about that which I enjoyed and has spent a lot of time with the Kalahari Bushmen.

Actually, I know very little to nothing of any of this.
It's simply something I have sensed to effect throughout my life. Well, except for that time I took a class in tai chi. That seemed cohesive to what runs through my mind.
The ballast in my kitchen light is nearing its end. So, I find myself trying to couple the energy between us, just as you describe, with the whisper of palm and finger. It works often enough that i've yet to change the ballast.
To me, much of life is an experiment, usually without the proper tools. lol.
As for studying any of it, perhaps a day will come when I might find time to dive in with more purpose.
For now, it remains something I feel inside.
I've screencapped your posts, though...so I cannot forget. Thank you.

In case some need reminders of hopeful news regarding draining the swamp (and improving living quality around DC area to boot), here it is"
https://www.nationalreview.com/news/hawley-to-introduce-bill-moving-federal-agencies-out-of-washington-d-c-to-economically-stagnant-areas/

"Hawley to Introduce Bill to Move Federal Agencies out of Washington D.C. to Economically Stagnant Areas "
"The “Helping Infrastructure Restore the Economy (HIRE) Act,” which is cosponsored by Senator Marsha Blackburn (R., Tenn.), would move 90 percent of the positions within ten executive agencies to economically distressed regions that have a stake in the work of those respective agencies.

Under the bill, the Department of Agriculture would be relocated to Hawley’s home state of Missouri while the Department of Education would move to Blackburn’s Tennessee, in order to disperse the economic benefits associated with relatively high-paying government jobs that currently accrue to just a few zip codes.

“Every year Americans’ hard-earned tax dollars fund federal agencies that are mainly located in the D.C. bubble. That’s a big part of the problem with Washington: they’re too removed from the rest of America. The Hire Act will move policymakers directly into the communities they serve, creating thousands of jobs for local communities and saving taxpayers billions of dollars along the way,” Hawley said in a statement."
